

Rural Life in Art

An exhibition exploring the rural landscape and farming through the seasons

View of Preston from Penwortham Hill, 1821
by John Jenkinson

Can you help?

Turn over for more details

Rural Life in Art

An exhibition exploring the rural landscape and farming through the seasons

The Harris Museum & Art Gallery is developing an art exhibition running this Summer from 25 July to 27 September.

We're interested in making links with anyone who would like to get involved by, for example:

- Giving us farming insights into what's happening in the paintings;
 - Offering special events linked to the exhibition, such as a farm tour or bringing animals to the Flag Market outside the Harris;
 - Proposing a rural group to take part in a project to create a short film showing their view of Preston (the rural areas of Preston City Council).
-

If you'd like to know more, please contact

Lindsey McCormick,

l.mccormick@preston.gov.uk or 01772 905409

or

Sue Latimer,

s.latimer@preston.gov.uk or 01772 905403

Harris Museum & Art Gallery, Market Square, Preston, PR1 2PP